Office Action Summary

Art Unit:

1. The information disclosure statements filed July 9, 1998 and August 20, 1998 fail to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each U.S. and foreign patent; each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

The patent 5,632,037 has not been considered because no copy was provided. The patents 5,189,314 and 5,625,826 have not been considered because the copies provided were incomplete.

2. Claim 29 is objected to because of the following informalities: it is dependent from a canceled claim. Appropriate correction is required.

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Art Unit:

4. Claims 1, 3, 5, 21-24, 26, 27, 29, 30, 32-62 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-32 of U. S. Patent No. 5,752,011 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: the temperature and/or activity of a microprocessor is monitored for controlling the frequency of the clock to the microprocessor and/or the speed of a fan for cooling the microprocessor.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

5. Claims 39-47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 39 lines 7-8 are vague and indefinite. This is a statement of desired results. It is not clear how the temperature signal is used to regulate temperature of the microprocessor.

Art Unit:

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1, 3, 5, 39-47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kenny et al (5,287,292).

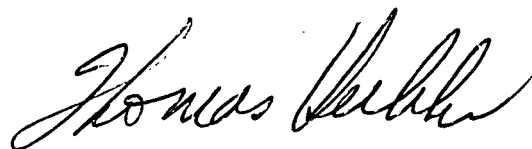

Kenny teaches a system wherein the temperature of an integrated circuit (which can be a microprocessor) is monitored by a temperature sensor (which can be integrated with the processor) to produce a control signal for controlling the temperature of the integrated circuit by adjusting the frequency of the clock for the circuit. Although the reference does not specifically teach a clock module, it is well known in the art that a clock module is used to produce clock signals for various circuitry since it is a necessary part of processing.
